

Vacancy by co-option to Mawnan Parish Council.

Since we have had no nominations for elections to our vacant position we can now open the space to co-option.

Anyone interest in taking a seat on the parish council needs to contact either the clerk or chairman. The office is manned Monday, Wednesday & Thursday 9am to 2pm. Or you can contact us via email clerk@mawnan.org.uk or phone on 251022.

We will need you to come to the next parish meeting (290th December at 7.30pm) and be willing to stand up, give a really short explanation about why you think you would be a good parish councillor and what you would bring to the council. We vote on the night on any nominations received – you could be on the parish council by the New Year!

We need people from the local community who want to see a positive future for our parish. We'd love to have people stand for council who want to be involved with their community and how we sustain ourselves, but who are also not afraid to think outside of the box.

Don't be afraid to stand if the only thing stopping you is being worried you have no experience. We can explain rules & procedures to you as we go along, but we cannot provide you with the passion to make a difference – you have that yourself!

Our co-option leaflet on the parish website gives quick details on what to do next if you're interested.
